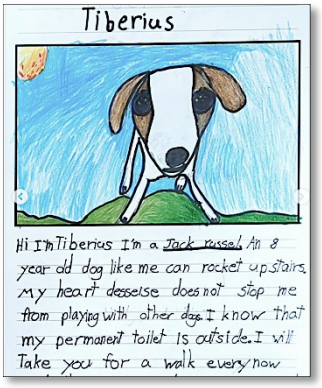
Kids' Activities

Help raise awareness about rescue dogs!

Host a Donation Party! Request guests bring donations of dog food, puppy pee pads, collars, or chew toys. Set up a pretend animal shelter or vet office with stuffed animals, create a dog agility course for kids to run through (jumps, weave poles, tunnels, etc.), and create homemade "doggie bags" using a variety of store-bought dog treats to donate as well.

Make Thank You cards for the workers and volunteers at a local animal shelter or rescue. Write why their work is important and why you appreciate them. You can learn how to draw cute puppies on the back of this paper!

Create a dog toy with old fleece blankets or fleece fabric that has been cut into long strips, knotted at one end, and braided. The longer the strips of fabric, the better the tug toy! Tuck some crunchy dog treats inside for extra fun!



Make adoption posters with your own drawings and descriptions of the pups. Visit the HomeAtLastDogRescue.com website, and click on the "Adoptable Dogs." Be sure to include the website address so people know where to find your dogs. Ask to display the posters at your school, local businesses, or even taped to boxes at your favorite pizza shop!

Fold origami dogs using square pieces of paper. Color them differently, and create names and descriptions. Now you have your own "Dog Rescue" for friends and family to adopt their favorites! You can even write a contract to teach your adopters how to take good care of their new puppy – be sure they sign it!
